

Are you a passionate IT Security Expert/Consultant/Project-lead with a strong analytical mindset and a relentless drive to ensure the overall integrity and security of complex IT-systems and processes? Keep on reading because we're hiring (mid to senior positions open):

Zero Trust Expert (German B2-level required)

In this role, you'll combine your project management skills and security expertise across Strategy, Technology and Operations so that you are able to offer an enterprise-wide security oversight to predict, protect, detect, and respond to threats in an industry specific context. If you're ready to play a vital role in securing and protecting valuable assets, this position is perfect for you.

Responsibilities and tasks include:

- Designing solutions and IT architectures and providing expert advice to clients on IT security projects
- Responsibility of guiding and overseeing the transformation of large-scale system architectures in IT security
- Leading project teams and ensuring milestones and project objectives, as well as engaging in stakeholder communication and conducting status meetings
- Analyzing complex processes and systems, particularly in the area of Identity and Access Management (IAM)

Requirements expected:

- Degree in Computer Science, (Business-)Informatics, Business Administration, or related disciplines
- Professional experience in IT security and IT consulting and ideally in implementing Zero Trust concepts and technologies
- A strong understanding of business processes and enthusiasm for digital topics, strategies, and their interactions
- Responsible team player with strong communication and presentation skills
- Currently we can only consider candidates with a minimum proficiency in German at Level B2 or higher.

What we offer:

- Continuous education and improvement by working on large-scale projects for international corporations with some of the most skilled people in the industry sector
- Modern workstation in Zagreb, Varaždin or Osijek
- Flexible working schedule and a possibility to work from home
- Competitive salary depending on experience
